

Jack Earle
McDonald's® Franchise Owner

It's Main and Simple.

Americans across the country are finding their financial futures on Main Street. Franchise businesses are a big part of Main Street and are a powerful engine for economic recovery.

As a McDonald's® franchise owner with offices on Main Street in Marlton, NJ, I join more than 900,000 other franchise businesses spanning 100 industry sectors to contribute $2.3 trillion to the U.S. economy.

Together, we create more than 20 million jobs.

As Washington works to strengthen and renew our economy, lawmakers should not ignore the positive economic impact that franchise business owners have on local communities all across the country. With available credit and sound regulatory policy, we will create the jobs necessary for sustained economic recovery and growth. It's that simple.

Franchising: Building local businesses, one opportunity at a time.

For information about the economic impact of franchising in your community, visit www.buildingopportunity.com.

Hear Jack in his own words @IFADC

Franchising
Building local businesses,
one opportunity at a time.

